

Census 2000 Demographic Profiles
City of Pittsburgh Neighborhoods

Documentation

This data is compiled from Census Bureau Summary File 1 data. Summary File 1 (SF 1) contains 286 detailed tables focusing on age, sex, households, families, and housing units. These tables provide in-depth figures by race and Hispanic origin; some tables are repeated for each of nine race/Latino groups. The tables here are a selected subset of data available in the SF1 datasets produced by the census. This data was aggregated from individual census tracts into data for specific neighborhoods in the city of Pittsburgh. Neighborhood definitions were obtained from the City of Pittsburgh Planning Department. These definitions consisted of an index of census tracts to city neighborhoods.

Note that for the 2000 Census, the question on race was changed from what had been asked in the 1990 Census, and responses reflect self-identification. Respondents were asked to report the race or races they considered themselves and other members of their households to be. For the 2000 census, more than one racial category could be selected. Most respondents selected only a single racial characterization but the option to select two or more racial categories was available. For this reason the 1990 and 2000 Census data by race are not directly comparable. People who responded to the question on race by indicating only one race are referred to as the race alone population, or the group who reported only one race. For example, respondents who marked only the White category on the census questionnaire would be included in the White alone population.
