About the University Center for Social and Urban Research (UCSUR)

The University Center for Social and Urban Research (UCSUR) was established in 1972 to serve as a resource for researchers and educators interested in the basic and applied social and behavioral sciences. As a hub for interdisciplinary research and collaboration, UCSUR promotes a research agenda focused on the social, economic and health issues most relevant to our society. UCSUR maintains a permanent research infrastructure available to faculty and the community with the capacity to: (1) conduct all types of survey research, including complex web surveys; (2) carry out regional econometric modeling; (3) analyze qualitative data using state-of-the-art computer methods, including web-based studies; (4) obtain, format, and analyze spatial data; (5) acquire, manage, and analyze large secondary and administrative data sets including Census data; and (6) design and carry out descriptive, evaluation, and intervention studies. UCSUR plays a critical role in the development of new research projects through consultation with faculty investigators.

The long-term goals of UCSUR fall into three broad domains: (1) provide state-of-the-art research and support services for investigators interested in interdisciplinary research in the behavioral, social, and clinical sciences; (2) develop nationally recognized research programs within the Center in a few selected areas; and (3) support the teaching mission of the University through graduate student, post-doctoral, and junior faculty mentoring, teaching courses on research methods in the social sciences, and providing research internships to undergraduate and graduate students. Achieving these goals requires that we continually upgrade and improve the research infrastructure of the Center, and that we recruit, develop, and maintain a core staff of investigators capable of being leaders in their fields.

About the Program in Urban and Regional Analysis

UCSUR's Program in Urban and Regional Analysis focuses on economic change in the Pittsburgh region. UCSUR is a research affiliate of the Pennsylvania State Data Center (PaSDC) and maintains the Pittsburgh REMI model, an economic impact model for conducting economic impact analysis and economic and demographic forecasting for the greater Southwestern Pennsylvania region. This report is part of the program's decades-long work to studying patterns of change in Pittsburgh neighborhoods.

UCSUR's Program in Urban and Regional Analysis also maintains the Pittsburgh Neighborhood and Community Information System (PNCIS), a property information system that collects integrated information on community conditions and provides it to local stakeholders. The PNCIS is a partnership of UCSUR, the Pittsburgh Partnership for Neighborhood Development (PPND), the City of Pittsburgh, and other stakeholders. UCSUR operates PNCIS in agreement with the City of Pittsburgh and PPND.

Overview

This research report compiles data from the 2010 Decennial Census Summary File 1 (SF1) data for City of Pittsburgh neighborhoods. The SF1 data contains basic information on the U.S. population from the 100% enumeration of the United States' residential population and housing stock collected in the 2010 Decennial Census. It includes data on people's age, sex, and race, their family and household groups, and whether their home is owned or rented. The reference date for the collection of data in the 2010 Decennial Census was April 1, 2010.

This report should complement data reported from the Census Bureau's American Community Survey (ACS) program. The 2010 Decennial Census was limited to what was once described as the "short form" which asked a total of 10 questions of every respondent. The majority of data collected by the Decennial Census in recent decades came from a longer set of questions asked of one in six households in the nation. This "long form" questionnaire was eliminated in the 2010 Decennial Census.

The ACS is a relatively new survey-based program which replaces the "long form" of the Decennial Census. Data is available from the ACS program annually. UCSUR has produced a series of neighborhood profiles based upon the first release of ACS data at the census tract level. The profiles are contained in a report available online on the center's web page (www.ucsur.pitt.edu).

This report follows similar reports of neighborhood conditions compiled by UCSUR. Past neighborhood data compendiums are available on the center's web page (www.ucsur.pitt.edu) and include sets of neighborhood reports from 1974, 1977, and 2000. UCSUR produced "The Social Geography of Allegheny County" for 1990 Census data which is available in print form upon request. Past projects focused on neighborhood level data for the City of Pittsburgh include the Pittsburgh Atlas Project from the 1970s, and the Pittsburgh Neighborhood Information System (NIS) generated in the 1980s, which compiled data for all city neighborhoods back to 1930. Today, the center's focus for neighborhood level data is also encompassed in the Pittsburgh Neighborhood and Community Information (PNCIS), which includes an interactive GIS system of address-level data for the City of Pittsburgh and other communities in Allegheny County.

This report includes 7 tables for each of the 90 neighborhoods in the City of Pittsburgh. A set of ordinal rankings for the major descriptive variables are presented here as well.

Neighborhood Profiles

This report compiles data from a subset of summary tables available from the 2010 Decennial Census Summary File 1 (SF1) data. Individual profiles are provided for each of the 90 neighborhoods currently defined by the City of Pittsburgh. Seven selected summary tables from the SF1 data are included in these profiles. The selected SF1 tables reported here are listed in Table 1.

Table 1. Selected SF1 Tables Used

SF1 Table	Description
P3	Total Population by Race
P4	Total Population by Hispanic or Latino Origin
P12	Total Population by Sex and Age
P18	Total Households by Household Type
H3	Total Housing Units by Occupancy Status
H4	Occupied Housing Units by Tenure (Mortgage Status)
H5	Vacant Housing Units by Vacancy Status

Other summary tables are available from the Census Bureau online via their Factfinder web page (http://factfinder2.census.gov). City of Pittsburgh neighborhoods are not a level of geography compiled by the U.S. Census Bureau. The Census Bureau's Factfinder web page reports data at the census tract level and census block group level which can be aggregated by users to generate neighborhood level data. Further information on the SF1 is available from the Census Bureau via the 2010 Census Summary File 1 – Technical Documentation report online at: http://www.census.gov/prod/cen2010/doc/sf1.pdf.

The City of Pittsburgh currently defines 90 distinct neighborhoods. Each neighborhood is a collection of one or more census tracts or, in certain cases, census block groups. The index of specific census tracts and block groups to neighborhoods used to generate these profiles is included as an appendix to this report. A map of current City of Pittsburgh neighborhoods is depicted in Figure 1.

Neighborhood Rankings

The following tables are rankings of the 90 City of Pittsburgh neighborhoods for a selected set of variables reported in the SF1 data and compiled to a neighborhood level geography. Each ranking refers to a specific descriptive variable included in the neighborhood profiles. The list of rankings compiled here and the relevant SF1 tables they are derived from are listed in Table 2.
